

Participants' Representatives - Board Director

British Dodgeball recognises that participants have a valuable and important voice in the running of the sport. Our Board of Directors has had a strong player influence at the heart of the organisation since our inception in 2017, and the makeup of our technical committee (formerly rules and regulations committee) has always involved members from the dodgeball community. As we look to continue to enhance the viewpoints on our Board, we want to continue to have a strong player and participant voice represented throughout our governance and decision-making.

British Dodgeball is seeking enthusiastic and forward thinking individuals to represent the players' and participants' voices in England and Northern Ireland. We are looking for representatives with strong critical thinking skills who can apply independent judgment to work effectively with other directors.

The role of Participants' Representative is a voluntary role with all reasonable travel and subsistence expenses fully reimbursed.

The below positions available:

Participants' Representative – England

Participants' Representative – Northern Ireland

Time commitment: Typically, 4- 6 board meetings per year plus approximately 1-2 days flexible hours per month.

Term: 3 years (maximum of 2 terms)

Location: England, Northern Ireland
